Welcome to Manuel Antonio Bee Farm on Reserva Natural Tocorí. Come and visit the family owned Manuel Antonio Bee Farm, located in a small rainforest area near Quepos, the Reserva Natural Tocorí. Experience their wonderful educational tours through the rainforest and the Bee Farm and get the chance to buy their local and 100% organic products. The family of the Manuel Antonio Bee Farm has the vision to awaken the awareness locally and beyond and become an educational main center for the protection of bees in Costa Rica. They improve the local environment by introducing trees and native plants that will stimulate for an increase of the bee population in the area. Aware of the global challenges the world is facing today with the disappearance of the bee populations and species, the Bee farm conserves the bees Apis mellifera and the several species of native stingless bees, among them the Mariola bee, also known as Angel Honey. They have created ideal conditions to repopulate and learn more about the marvels of the bees species of Costa Rica and want to share their knowledge with visitors of the farm. Experience their dedication to protect the bee habitat in one of their fun and educational tours. The Honey Bee Farm tours include

- A thural introduction to the life cycle and importance of the bee and the bee specis in Costa Rica
- A demonstration of the honey production and the farms products
- Visiting the hive to see the bees in action
- Tour through the reserve including all equipment you will need
- A delicious tradicional Costa Rican lunch made on fire
- Transportation to and from the reserve from Quepos or Manuel Antonio
