Description

Villa Dahlmar is a stunning 3000 square foot home, perfectly situated on a 4.82 acre property, located in the exclusive, seaside community of Hills of Portalon. DahlMar is an iconic reference, loosely translated as "beautiful flower where the rainforest meets the sea". Nestled in Costa Rica's Southern Pacific rainforest, this tropical sanctuary is ideally centered between the new Marina Pez Vela in Quepos 20 minutes North, and surfing mecca Dominical, 15 minutes South. In addition, two of the most incredibly beautiful and serene beaches in the Southern Zone are located 7 and 12 minutes away respectively, from the doorstep of home. This is an ideal location and rare find that integrates an unforgettable setting with proximity to the multitude of activities for which Costa Rica is famous. You and your guests or family can experience a lifestyle like no other that offers everything from surreal ocean views to world class, deep sea fishing. Anticipation builds as you travel up the well-maintained development road and enter the grand iron gates of this gorgeous park-like estate. Upon entering this marvellous home, you are instantly mesmerized by rainforest, mountain, valley, and ocean views that surround every vantage point of this unique property. With the exception of barely visible estates, miles away across the grand Portalon Rivery valley, there are no other homes or man-made structures in sight. Serenity, privacy and sense of being at one with nature are yours to behold at
